“Bobbie and I may as well be family, Kim and Nicole are sisters, they are our daughters in laws. Bobbie moved in across the street from me and then it really seemed to be ok to get up in the morning. My door was always open, blinds were open, I looked forward to seeing her little body come across the street. We never ran out of subjects to talk and laugh about. I absolutely loved my little sister! That's how I felt about her, she was the sweetest, kindest, loving person anyone could know. And I'd do anything for her, but she'd very seldom ask. So I'd have to insist, and I did. Certainly going to miss my friend more than anyone knows. Love you Bobbie, but I'll see you again someday. So talk to everyone else for now, cause when I get there we will have so much to talk about my friend.
