“Granny, you were so funny I remember going to your house for Christmas, and Thanksgiving I know that you are in a safe place now and you don't feel any more pain. I know God has a special place waiting for you Johnny Johnny is missing you so much I can just tell. He loves all of us and still barks when cars drive by our house. I remember visiting you on the last day you were here, I cherished every moment of it, but It was really sad seeing you in all of the pain. I knew you wanted to tell us u love us I couldn't hold back the tears. It was so different how we did thanksgiving last year. At your funeral, I loved all of the photos and they brought back so many memories. I love you so so so much and our family does too (including Johnny Johnny) I know I will get to see you again one day.
